Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, assumptions and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied. These include, among others: the timing and availability of electrical power and site readiness; equipment and supply-chain lead times; construction and commissioning schedules; customer acceptance, commencement, expansion, and renewal of contracts; concentration among a limited number of customers; changes in customer spending priorities and capital expenditures; the performance of counterparties under our hosting, capacity supply and deferred-payment arrangements; the availability, cost and terms of debt and other financing; permitting and regulatory approvals; changes in energy costs and governmental regulations affecting compute center development and operation; and the pace and durability of demand for AI compute infrastructure. Additional information concerning these and other factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in forward-looking statements can be found in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including its most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q. Any unit economics, projections or illustrative figures are for informational purposes only, rest on assumptions that are subject to change, and should not be relied upon as predictions of future results.

This presentation refers to Adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure, only in describing the Company's previously issued full-year 2026 outlook. Adjusted EBITDA is not a substitute for, and should be read together with, results prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Historical financial information is presented on a GAAP basis.

ADVANTAGE COMPOUNDED

Standardization and Procurement Lower Our Cost per MW

Same high-quality equipment from established manufacturers. Savings come from standardization and procurement.

1 Bought primarily direct
We buy primarily direct from manufacturers, which limits distributor markup and gives us actual factory lead times.

2 One standard design, repeated
We engineer around proven, in-production units from established manufacturers rather than custom equipment; e.g. sixteen 1.5 MW UPS units run at 1.25 MW for operating headroom.

3 Components secured in advance
Switchgear, transformers, cooling, and power distribution for additional 5 MW pods are already on order; lead time is taken out of the schedule before a site is signed.

A repeatable design and direct procurement lower capital per MW without compromising equipment quality

COMPETITIVE POSITION
How We Compete
1
Power-first site selection
We prioritize sites with available utility power, and room to expand, in underserved Tier 3 and Tier 4 markets.
2
Integrated modular build
One repeatable modular data hall, deployed in existing buildings or new tilt-wall shells. Our patented entryway (U.S. Patent No. 12,404,690) keeps particulates out of the hall.
3
In-house sourcing
Technology Solutions sources power, cooling, and cabinet equipment across manufacturers, for our own sites and for third-party customers.
ONE ARCHITECTURE, TWO SCALES
The same modular design spans our edge data centers in Texas and the Columbus AI campus.

SECOND BUSINESS LINE

Infrastructure Solutions

Duos Technology Solutions Inc. is a separate business with its own customers, backlog, and sales organization

FOR US

Captive supply chain

- Buying primarily direct from manufacturers, limiting distributor markup
- Supports an estimated $4.9M per gross MW build at Columbus Phase 1 (excl. land and building)
- Real factory lead times, and long-lead components ordered ahead of demand

FOR THE MARKET

Sale of components at competitive pricing

- We sell the same components to third-party operators and integrators
- MSA and MPA agreements with NTT, Edged, Databank, QTS and Core Scientific
- Buyers going through distribution pay a markup we largely avoid; that gap is the product

UNIT ECONOMICS
What One Megawatt Does
Illustrative, at the contracted rate on our executed colocation agreement. Every site is the same unit, repeated.
<$6.5M
Capital to build one megawatt including land
Roughly half the $10–12M industry standard
$180
Per kW, per month, contracted – Current rates
= $2 – 2.5M of annual revenue per megawatt
~$1.5M
Site EBITDA per megawatt, per year
Power is the dominant operating cost
<5Years
Payback Time Frame
Short payback of initial investment with +5 year contracts
The whole company is this slide, multiplied. A unit is a known cost, a known rent and a known margin — so growth is a question of capital and sites, not of invention.
Illustrative unit economics based on management assumptions and the rate in the Company's executed colocation agreement. Actual results will vary with delivered power cost, utilization, site operating expense and timing.
